Sweden's gender equality policies

In 2006 the Riksdag decided that the overall goal of gender equality policy in Sweden should be that women and men have the same power and opportunities to influence society and their own lives.

An equal distribution of power and influence. Women and men must have the same rights and opportunities to be active citizens and to shape the conditions of decision-making.

Sweden's gender equality policies

Equal economic opportunities. Women and men must have the same possibilities and conditions for paid work that provides financial independence throughout life.

Equal education opportunities. Women and men, and girls and boys, must have the same opportunities and be subject to the same terms regarding education, study choices and personal development.

Equal opportunities

Discrimination based on sex, racial or ethnic origin, religion or belief, disability, age or sexual orientation is illegal throughout the Union.

However certain groups, such as third country nationals and ethnic minorities, face difficulties in accessing the world of work.

Support for long-term unemployed

Job and development guarantee starting after 300 days of unemployment, including an activity grant and providing a succession of support measures including screening, job search activities and coaching during at most six months, followed by training measures and at 450 days in the program, a work placement in public or private Sector.

Support for long-term unemployed

- Employment incentives whereby employers receive compensation corresponding to the social contributions.
- Labour market training and guidance preparing participation in other active measures.

Why work in Sweden?

Innovation and equality are Swedish cornerstones. But there's more.
