

Project no. 1020370

Strengthening the NGO network - a tool for social security

Interakcia Foundation

Project Partner Action Plan for the period from 01/10/2021 - 30/04/2022

2-7 workshops with a total budget of 3978 euros

No.	Workshop date	Workshop Content	Number of participants	Workshop results planned	Responsible person
1	10/9/2021	Workshop for the staff members of Interakcia Foundation on the topic "Cross-cutting social and environmental objectives: using European Pillar of Social Rights to promote social inclusion and equality in climate action"	7	Staff members of Interakcia Foundation discussed practical ways of how to integrate the principles of EPSR, which they learned about during the Norden project, into the upcoming climate action activities of the Foundation	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation
2	10/28/2021	Workshop for the senior people in Smorgon (Grodno region, Belarus), on the topic "How climate change influences vulnerable groups of population, especially senior people, and what can be done to mitigate this?"	14	Senior people in Smorgon learned about the influence of climate change on their health and wellbeing, and discussed the ways these influences can be mitigated (through climate adaptation activities and public monitoring); experience of the Norden project and ESPR principles presented as an instrument that can help local senior people to secure their equal participation and inclusion into local climate adaptation activities.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation
3	11/3/2021	Workshop for the senior people in Korma (Gomel region, Belarus), on the topic "How climate change influences vulnerable groups of population, especially senior people, and what can be done to mitigate this?"	15	Senior people in Korma learned about the influence of climate change on their health and wellbeing, and discussed the ways these influences can be mitigated (through climate adaptation activities and public monitoring); experience of the Norden project and ESPR principles presented as an instrument that can help local senior people to secure their equal participation and inclusion into local climate adaptation activities.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation
4	11/4/2021	Workshop for the teachers in Smorgon (Grodno region, Belarus) on the topic "Sustainable development practices at school and in the local community"	17	Teachers in Smorgon learned about Sustainable Development Goals, with focus on SDGs 3 "Good Health and Wellbeing", 4 "Quality Education", 5 "Gender Equality", 10 "Reduced Inequalities", 11 "Sustainable Cities and Communities"; experience of the Norden project and ESPR principles presented as an instrument that can help local teachers to include these goals into their work at school and their actions on the wider community level.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation

5	11/10/2021	Workshop for the teachers in Korma (Gomel region, Belarus) on the topic "Sustainable development practices at school and in the local community"	27	Teachers in Korma learned about Sustainable Development Goals, with focus on SDGs 3 "Good Health and Wellbeing", 4 "Quality Education", 5 "Gender Equality", 10 "Reduced Inequalities", 11 "Sustainable Cities and Communities"; experience of the Norden project and ESPR principles presented as an instrument that can help local teachers to include these goals into their work at school and their actions on the wider community level.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation
6	11/12/2021	Workshop for local residents in Korma (Gomel region, Belarus) on the topic "ESPR as a tool for public monitoring of the Sustainable Energy and Climate Action Plan of the Korma district"	16	Local residents in Korma learned about the planned activities of the Sustainable Energy and Climate Action Plan for the Korma district, with focus on climate adaptation actions in the area of public health. Using the experience of the Norden project and basing on the ESPR principles, they discussed the ways to conduct public monitoring of these actions and secure their equal participation and inclusion into implementation of these activities to mitigate their vulnerability to the consequences of climate change.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation
7	11/16/2021	Workshop for local residents in Smorgon Grodno region, Belarus) on the topic "ESPR as a tool for public monitoring of the Sustainable Energy and Climate Action Plan of the Smorgon district"	19	Local residents in Smorgon learned about the planned activities of the Sustainable Energy and Climate Action Plan for the Smorgon district, with focus on climate adaptation actions in the area of public health. Using the experience of the Norden project and basing on the ESPR principles, they discussed the ways to conduct public monitoring of these actions and secure their equal participation and inclusion into implementation of these activities to mitigate their vulnerability to the consequences of climate change.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation Daria Stepnova, project manager of Interakcia Foundation
8	1/14/2022	Following the court's decision to liquidate Interakcia Foundation: internal workshop for the staff members of Interakcia Foundation on how to integrate the experience of the Norden project into the aim and objectives of a new NGO to be re-opened in another country	7	Staff members of Interakcia Foundation discussed the experience of the Norden project and the ways to reflect this experience in the strategic aim, objectives and planned activities of a new NGO to be re-opened in another country once the court's decision about Interakcia's liquidation comes into force.	Marina Borisova, Deputy Director of Interakcia Foundation

